

OUR TOWN

Up in Fort Worth the other day a driver of an automobile deliberately ran down another, killing him. Officers arrested him and when he was formally charged an entry was made on the docket: "With malice aforethought and a prohibitive weapon." A long time ago the law made the boys stack the shootin' irons because they got too free with lead and plugged one another harmful like. Occasionally the old barker gets into play and somebody's light goes out but nothing like the number who come to their end by the gasoline route. In these United States last year more than 12,000 people lost their lives and more than 250,000 were injured in automobile accidents. It's getting worse when they call a car a "deadly weapon." What we should do is to learn to wait a minute. We need this sort of thing worse than any other we can think of right now.

Some of us boys are about to crack under the strain. It's too much. Everytime we build up high about some screen idol the altar of admiration and begin to point them out, some twist of fate comes along and slaps us hard. When Bill Hart, the chivalrous knight who went about doing good, got caught in a triangle and came out looking bad, we doubted if the nervous system would stand the shock. But we went out and breathed clean air and forgot it. Now Milton Sills, the two fisted portrayor of romantic screen roles is having domestic squalls and it looks like the divorce mill is sure to shatter another idol for us. And last but not least is Tom Mix who shoots a villain every time and carries safely back home the fairest of damsels. Cease repining sad heart; Ben Turpin is still safe and we know in advance that Jack Dempsey has a plastered nose.

"Many gray heads in Cameron have been educated from this store," reads an advertisement from the Geo. A. Thomas and Sons drug store. For more than thirty years this store has been a fixture and stimulus to the commercial life of Cameron. It is more than that. It is an institution, for no firm could so exist for three decades and more without traditions that reach to the debts of all that is inspiring in our civic relationship. Not only has this firm been prominent for more than a third of a century in Cameron business, it is the oldest firm doing business in Cameron whose personality has not changed and one among those whose good name has stood out without gain-saying. To such an enterprise well may the community revert in its contemplation of what we have built here as the shrine around which to lavish the fine devotion of citizenship. Cameron has many worthy firms and individuals for which the city feels the generous impulse of pride. They are mementos we count great in the galaxy of our achievements as a community.

Speaking of things in which we take pride as citizens nothing stands out more resourceful in achievement or beneficial in influence than our system of schools. Not only are they the prized possession of well modeled progress but they stand out a blessing to those who must take our places when in the language of the editorial room "thirty" is written for our careers. Our course will be measured not by what we accumulate in riches but by the signs we leave for others to trace their way in the complex way of life. Investments such as we have made for those who are to follow will deserve honorable mention in the assessment time will place upon our worth.

P. Paddick Indicted By Grand Jury Here.

P. Paddick, former employee of the Compress Company, has been indicted by the grand jury on three counts for felony theft. The indictment was brought following accusation that Mr. Paddick had taken three bales of cotton on separate dates from the Compress.

Mr. Paddick recently left Cameron for Elk City, Okla. On Tuesday night deputy Sheriff B. Slocumb, left Cameron for that city to return with Mr. Paddick, whose bond has been set at $1000 in each case.

RAIN SAVES FARMERS AND RESTORES BUSINESS

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO INVITE R. Q. LEE HERE

PRESIDENT WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAY BE SPEAKER HERE.

R. Q. Lee, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, may be invited to deliver the principal address at the semi-annual meeting in Cameron of the Commercial Club on Monday night September 28.

It is known that a number of the members of the club have asked that the committee in charge of the arrangements invite Mr. Lee to speak here. They point out that Mr. Lee who is interested in diversification on the farm will bring a message of great hope to the struggling cotton farmers of Milam county and Eastern Texas.

When Mr. Lee was elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce he announced as his program education among the farmers of West Texas to encourage them to plant a diversity of crops and to get away from the cotton system. In this program Mr. Lee has been successful and is attracting wide attention throughout the south in his work.

Mr. Lee by his encouragement of the poultry industry has earned for his home town of Cisco the name "Egg Basket of Texas." What Cisco has been able to do in egg production has amazed the entire state and enriched the people of the county. Mr. Lee is not only active in agricultural work among the farmers of West Texas but is a banker and business man, railroad owner and farmer.

It is believed that the selection of Mr. Lee as speaker for the banquet will be both timely and successful.

H. C. Keith Buys Out Electric Shop Here.

H. C. Keith has purchased the electric business of W. A. Copus in Cameron and has taken charge. Mr. and Mrs. Copus and their daughter, Gladys Jewel, will leave in a few days for their old home in Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Keith was former agent for the Santa Fe and is now the agent for the Delco Light systems.

Their many friends here will be pleased to learn of this business venture.

Drouth Fails to Stop Increase in Postal Receipts in Cameron.

Every one is talking of hard times and of the decrease in business.

But, we are glad to say that there is one very frequently visited place in Cameron that has not yet suffered from the drouth. This is the post office.

Through investigation we find that the postal receipts for the fiscal year of 1925 show an increase of 13 1-2 per cent over the fiscal year of 1924. How's that for hard times? In spite of little rain and poor crops our post office continues to grow. And, as the post office grows so grows Cameron.

Secretary Invites R. Q. Lee to Speak.

Secretary Paul Webb of the Commercial Club has written R. Q. Lee of Cisco a letter inviting him to Cameron to deliver the principal address on September 28 when the club holds its annual banquet.

It is hoped that Mr. Lee will accept this invitation. In the event he comes to Cameron, an opportunity will be had for the farmers to get diversification first hand as understood by Mr. Lee who is doing great work in West Texas.

See the committees at once and secure a ticket to this baquet. It will be worthwhile to attend and hear Mr. Lee expound his farm program.

Miss Thora Mae Fikes returned recently from El Dorado and Windfield, Kansas, where she spent the summer. She spent the week-end with Miss Elizabeth Adams. She will leave Sunday for the Southwest Texas Normal in San Marcos where she will study next term.

CAMERON NURSES RETURN FROM 4 MONTHS TOUR OF EUROPE; VISIT THE VATICAN AND HISTORIC PLACES.

If requested to select the city which, could we choose but one, we would desire above all others to behold, there would be but one answer. It would be Rome!

For many, her enchantment; her proofs of incomparable heritage of history and her museums laden with the spoils of Time, are the fountains from which the pilgrim, after many weary days of travel, drinks deep of grandeur, gloom and glory. We ask why this ruined city of the past proves more attractive than any other of the capitals of the old world. The secret cannot be its antiquity. Athens is more ancient yet it possesses no such charm. It is not because of its relationship to Christianity although for centuries it has been the cradle of the church. Constantinople for centuries was the eastern capital of Christianity, yet how small is the attraction compared to that which lures us to the Tiber!

The cause is doubtless that more than any other spot on earth, Rome centers in itself the history of the race for twenty centuries. "Absorbing by its universal conquests the fruits of all preceding civilizations and the treasures of all lands," says Stoddard, "it is, historically, the intellectual capital of the world." The current of continuous historic life flows through it now as surely and inevitably as the Tiber. Its modes of government, politics, art, science and jurisprudence and Church history have traveled even further than the Roman legions until they have reached the confines of the globe.

Such are the thoughts that possess one who journeys to its shrines and such were the experiences of Miss Marie E. Lorenz, Miss Josephine B. Dreis and Miss Anna Lorenz of the Cameron Hospital who have just returned to Cameron from a 4 months stay abroad in which they visited the places of historic interest in Europe. They reached Cameron Sunday morning from Chicago where after landing in Brooklyn from an eight day voyage through a choppy sea from Bremen, Germany, they spent two weeks with relatives.

Glad to reach Cameron after a four months trip abroad, they tell many things of interest about their trip which took them primarily to Rome for the inspiration of the Holy Year ceremonies of the Catholic church of which they are members.

Beatification of Saints.

These ceremonies, chief among which they witnessed was the Beatification of the American Saints. These Saints are six Jesuit Priests and two Laymen. This ceremony solemnized in the church of St. Peter, the most imposing edifice in the world, was witnessed by 40,000 people. On this occasion Pope Pius XI came to the church. They had reserved seats and the ceremony consumed a full day. At 6 p. m. the Pope was carried to the church attended by the Cameron Schools Are Credit to County—New Buildings up.

Cameron has two beautiful buildings of which to be proud. The Yoe High School and the new Grammar School. Very few places of this size can boast of as large and as well equipped public institutions as we have.

Increase in population have resulted in these two beautiful and modern buildings. The Yoe High School opened Monday Sept. 14th, but on account of incompleteness of the building the Grammar School will not open until Monday Sept. 21st. 33 children will be transferred from the old Grammar School to the new building. While there will be about 190 transfers from rural districts. The approximate number of children to attend school this year is 900. This alone helps to prove the high standing that our city schools have attained in the minds of the people here about.

Robert Brown, Misses Cora Mae Link and Frances House visited Mrs. Robert Brown, while she was at Institute in Belton.

Evangelist McReynolds Locates the Devil in Cameron

Says devil goes car riding at night with young people.

In the alleys pouring bootleg and jake down boob's throats.

In the cess-pools of corruption in filthy publications so nasty, rotten and nauseating that a turkey buzzard couldn't read them.

Says that the dance-hall is his official headquarters.

Evangelist McReynolds was greeted by a big crowd at the Methodist church last night when he preached on "Where the Devil Hangs Out in Cameron."

He emphasized that the devil is a sneak like coyotes and other varmints working under the cover of night, in dark alleys, and under false masks because he is a coward. "The devil will run from you if you resist him," he said, "but so many folks are running after him and holding on to his

Raid Crap Game and Arrest Four Here.

Joe Richter, deputy marshal and watchman at the Santa Fe in company with City Marshal Ray Robinson, raided a crap game in a building in Santa Fe town this week and four were arrested. All paid fines.

Since Mr. Richter has been watchman at the Santa Fe no burglaries have occurred and he has kept the town in good order. He is an ex-soldier and a vet of the world war, as is the City Marshal.

Indicted on Charge of Liquor Man Here Escapes Arrest.

T. Oliver, arrested on a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor and who has been indicted by the grand jury, has not been located by the officers, failing to respond to the bond under which he was released from jail. The sureties on the bond are now trying to locate him.

Oliver recently served full time in the penitentiary and when arrested had 125 bottles of beer.

coat tail that he can't get very far away from them."

"He is always hanging around the neck of a bottle of bootleg or jake and his official headquarters is at the dance hall said Mr. McReynolds. "The devil knows that he can break more hearts, wreck more homes, cause more sorrow, more divorces and start more girls on the downward path that leads to hell by getting them under the hypnotic spell of the dance than by any other means."

Night car riding in the evangelist's opinion is one of the most dangerous enemies to the morals of the young people of today. "Perhaps no other thing excepting the dance is as much responsible for the wrecking of the lives of so many thousands of young girls as car riding at night," he said.

He concluded his sermon by bitterly assailing corrupt so-called magazines many of them so filthy he charged that they can not be sent thru the U. S. mails and are shipped express and sold on the streets of our cities and read by our young people without a blush of shame ever coming to their cheeks."

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO ELECT SEPTEMBER 28

SEPTEMBER 28 DATE SET FOR NAMING OFFICERS FOR SEMI-ANNUAL PERIOD.

Monday September 28 is the date set for the semi-annual election of officers for the Cameron Commercial Club.

At the meeting Monday night plans were made for the banquet to be given by the club in the basement of the Methodist church.

The club will send out a large number of invitations to farmers and others in the various communities and will also invite the officials from the Thorndale and Buckholts Commercial Clubs.

It is said that the largest attendance ever seen as a semi-annual banquet will be expected.

The friendly visits being made by the club to the communities of the county has brought about a closer relationship among the people of the country and for this reason it is advanced as the belief of those in close touch with the program, the attendance will be large.

Many are urging an invitation to R. Q. Lee, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to deliver the principal address at the meeting.

DR. J. C. REESE BURIED IN CAMERON SUNDAY

PIONEER DENTIST DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS—ESTEEMED BY MANY

A large concourse assembled at the Methodist Church at 4 P. M. Sunday Sept. 13, 1925 for the funeral of Dr. Reese for many years one of the staunchest members of the Cameron Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. R. S. Marshall conducted the simple service. The choir of which Dr. Reese was the oldest member, sang the hymns of which he was so fond. His splendid bass voice will be missed and his accustomed choir seat was beautifully draped and white flowers placed to his memory. Dr. Reese's death followed an illness of four weeks and his absence from the choir covered only that short period.

The active pall bearers were Messrs. B. F. Bonds, Fred Cable, Dan Tyson, E. O. Schiller, C. T. Peyton and J. C. Martin. The honorary pall bearers were: Messrs. A. N. Green, R. B. Rylander, Robert McLane, S. W. Cheeves, A. H. Baskin, M. G. Cox, Jeff Kemp, Royal P. Jeter, J. C. Joseph, W. I. Clark, John B. McLane, Dr. A. S. Epperson, W. H. Triggs and R. Todd.

Relatives and friends from a distance who came to the funeral were: Will Womak of Woodward, Okla.; his only brother, J. S. Reese, Mrs. J. S. Reese and Crossley Reese from Ballinger; Mrs. Davis and little daughter, Irasca Davis, of Waco; Mort Lyles Dr. W. J. Fountain of Jones Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tyson of Calvert; Dick Conoley, Mr. and Mrs. John Green of Rosebud.

The pastor's brief sketch of Dr. Reese covered many phases of his active life, professional and business. A beautiful tribute was paid to the love of Dr. Reese and his good wife for children and a beautiful poem selected by Mack Harvey, full of faith and understanding was read. Dr. Reese is survived by his wife, who since the death of Mrs. Mack Harvey has had the care of her children, Abbie Reese and Lee Batte Harvey, who with their father live in the Reese home.

The following biographical sketch was taken from a history of Milam county: Dr. J. C. Reese was a native of Washington county, Arkansas, where he was born in 1855 and was a son of James Henry and Malinda M. Reese, natives of North Carolina and Georgia, respectively. His parents married in Arkansas and resided there until their removal to Texas in 1870. They were the parents of three sons, Dr. J. C. Reese, Joel S. Reese and Leroy Z. Reese.

Dr. Reese was reared mainly in Milam county and received his educa-

MILAM COUNTY GETS DRENCHING DOWNPOUR

STREAMS RUN AND FARM LANDS SOAKED IN 11TH HOUR PRECIPITATION.

Rain!

For more than 15 months, drouth, the most severe within the recollection of pioneers, has held Milam county in its grip. Farming interests have suffered the most serious handicap in a half century but once more the moist earth will yield up her treasures.

Within the past week rain has fallen in every section of Milam county, varying in precipitation from one to 6 inches thus breaking the grip of the drouth and saving the farmers from total crop failures and restoring business.

Streams are running and water reservoirs are full to overflowing. Ranges will yield grass and stock will be carried through the winter without expense to the farmers.

Already reports are coming in of increased prospects for cotton yield and abundant feed crops will be produced where growth has been promoted by recent rains. During the hot weather preceeding Friday September 11 all feed crops were being reduced to failure under the withering sun and the rainfall has restored these crops and made possible the planting of other crops.

While the rain came too late to insure normal cotton production it will assist farmers in maturing crops that are short but needed additional moisture.

The heaviest rains were reported in the Buckholts section and west of Cameron. In the sand belt to the east and south drenching rains have fallen.

The farmers have been saved and business has been restored. "Matchless Milam" will go forward, not backward.

TWO CAMERON STORES CLOSE SEPT. 19 AND 28

W. KLAWANSKY AND W. B. LEVY TO OBSERVE JEWISH HOLIDAYS.

On Saturday September 19 and 28 the store of W. Klawansky and W. B. Levy will be closed on account of the Jewish holidays.

It will be of interest to know the significance of these days and the following is given:

The Jewish people will on Friday evening, September the 18th, enter their houses of worship, to usher in their Rosh Hashanah, or New Year, 5686, which marks the beginning of the cycle of sacred observances held during the month of Tishri, the seventh month of the Jewish calendar. While every New Moon, in ancient times, was greeted by the sounds of the Shofar (trumpet), the seventh month or New Moon, coming after six months of work in the field, was welcomed with religious exercises as a month of rest and recreation by the agricultural inhabitants of Palestine. (Numbers x, 10.)

The Jewish New Year is known by different names, and each expresses something of its spiritual significance. Numbers xxix 1, designates it as "The Day Blowing the Trumpet (Shofar)." New Year occurs in the autumn, when the falling leaf and fading flower turn man's mind to serious reflection, and sounds the admonitory message: "Awake, and ponder your deeds; remember your creator, return to Him in penitence. Be not of those who reach out after shadows, and waste years seeking vain things which can not profit or deliver. Look well to your souls and consider your acts: forsake each of you his evil ways and thoughts, and return to God, that He may have mercy upon you."

Rosh Hashanah is also known as The Day of Memorial, The Day of Judgment, of self-examination. Tradition tells us that on this Day the Ruler of Life weighs the doings of man, and allots to each his destiny, as it were, for the coming year, for weal or woe, for life or death. "Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people not tremble?" (Amos, iii, 6.)

"For the Lord is our judge; the Lord is our king; He will save us."

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF GALVESTON STORM SEPTEMBER 8— HURRICANE COST 8000 LIVES.

Tuesday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Gulf hurricane which on Saturday Sept. 8, 1900, cost 8,000 or more lives in the city of Galveston and Galveston Island, 2,000 or more additional on the mainland adjacent, and destroyed nearly half the residential district, doing property damage of about 30,000,000, the whole constituting the storm disaster in the history of the United States. The anniversary recalled to Dr. Joseph L. Cline, local weather observer, and others who were in Galveston at the time vivid recollections of the catclysm. Dr. Cline was then assistant to the Government meteorologist at Galveston.

According to Dr. Cline the water from the Gulf, driven by a wind which reached cyclone force, was coming into the lower sections of Galveston early Saturday morning. The storm reached its height at about 8 p. m., when the water was about 14 feet above mean high tide, and the wind blowing more than 100 miles an hour. At midnight the force of the blast lulled a little, he said, with the water almost back to normal levels by daylight, leaving behind death and desolation. The anemometer at the Galveston weather station recorded a wind velocity of 100 miles before it was blown away. A similar instrument on the steamer Kendall Castle, in Galveston harbor, showed 120 miles before it too was destroyed.

Galveston Submerged.

When the water was at its maximum the whole of Galveston Island was submerged, the highest points being under six feet or more. Force of the wind itself destroyed some of the buildings, including a number of wharf sheds, but most of the destruction was wrought by the water which almost amounted to a tidal wave. The greatest havoc was in the section of the city along the Gulf shore, but slightly above sea level. Here the waves sheared off a portion of the land of the island. The three railway trestles and a wagon bridge across Galveston Bay were destroyed, as were the railway tracks several miles inland. The tracks were replaced to the edge of the bay in a short time, but it was several days before the rail communication was restored to Galveston.

All wires were destroyed, including the cable connecting the island with Mexico. It was over this cable that the first news of the disaster went out, early Saturday night, but after it failed there was no definite news until Sept. 10, two days later. Only then did the appalling extent of the storm toll become known to the country, though its severity was already indicated by damage done for many miles inland from the Gulf. Relief measures were promptly taken, funds being supplied from New York City and various other sections of the country as well as from Texas. For a week the city was under military control, after which its citizens looking toward the future and rehabilitating, evolved the first commission form of government known to America.

Protective Measures Devised.

The people then, recovered from the first shock of the horror, also set aside protective measures against the recurrence of the disaster. Bonds were issued by the county of Galveston for the construction of a great seawall, while the city issued bonds to raise the level of the terrain within the wall. These works later proved their value as other Gulf hurricanes came, notably during the terrific storm of 1915, which left Galveston unscratched, safe behind its great concrete and stone barrier. The county, city and the railways entering Galveston also joined in the construction of the gigantic causeway linking the island to the mainland. The original seawall has been extended for several miles, part by the United States Government, and the grade of other portions of the city also has since been raised.

The bonds for these protective works were based on the State taxes paid by the city and county of Galveston, remitted to be applied for the redemption of the bonds. The last Legislature, twenty four years after the cause, again remitted for bond purposes the State's portion of Galveston's tax payments. The cost of the whole program of protective improvement is said to have exceeded $25,000,000.

Interscholastic League Meet at Rockdale.

By an almost unanimous vote of the Milam county teachers attending the Four County Institute at Belton, it was decided to hold the Milam County Interscholastic League Meet at Rockdale next spring. This is the biggest educational meet of the year and hundreds of teachers and pupils from all over the county will spend two days at Rockdale where the students will engage in various athletic and literary contests, including spelling, essay writing, declamation, debates, arithmetic contest, music memory contest, tennis, track and field events.

Superintendent J. C. Wilkerson of Rockdale was elected Director General and Principal Tom F. Petty, director of athletics. An invitation for the meet to be held at Rockdale was extended by the Lions Club and by Mayor H. C. Meyer.

Rockdale has entertained the teachers and students at county meets on several different occasions, and has always accorded her visitors such treatment so as to make them want to come back again. The Reporter feels safe in predicting that the county meeting Rockdale will be the largest and most successful in the history of the Interscholastic League in Milam County.—Rockdale Reporter.

CAMERON NURSES RETURN FROM 4 MONTHS TOUR OF EUROPE; VISIT THE VATICAN AND HISTORIC PLACES.

Cardinals, Prelates, church dignitaries and the famous Swiss guard.

The American Saints for whom the Beatification was held, were Martyrs. Five of them were killed in Canada by the Indians and three were killed in New York by the savages in the early stages of American history.

St. Peter's Seen.

The grandeur of St. Peter's and its immense size baffles the capacity for appreciation and one must see it many times to comprehend its magnificence. St. Peter's has been described as likened to a city rather than to a sanctuary whose streets are marble and whose sky is gold. Beneath its ceilings, covered with gilded ornamentation in relief are no less than forty-four altars, seven hundred and forty-eight columns and a population of three hundred and ninety statues.

It was an inspiration never to be forgotten for the Cameron visitors on this occasion as the Pope came to the church on that day. With his appearance 40,000 people cheered wildly the Holy Father. During this ceremony the Sistine choir composed of many voices sang appropriate songs.

See the Pope.

The Cameron visitors in the course of their sojourn in Rome and visits to St. Peter's and the Vatican three times saw the Pope. Once while participating in the ceremonies in St. Peter's; another time while the Holy Father walked about his gardens and once with a company of 40 received in special audience by the Pope.

Vatican Immense.

The immensity of the Vatican grounds and that of the church is of great interest. From the door of St. Peter's to the Vatican where the Missionary Exhibition, a part of the Holy See program, is 1 mile. In all there are 250 Catholic churches in Rome. They visited most of these edifices and a place of great interest was the Catacombs where repose the bodies of the Saints. The Coliseum, the forum of Roman eloquence where burned the genius of Antony and Caesar and where was enacted the tragedy that forms one of the historic chapters of the empire—the murder of Caesar that day as he went to the Senate holding in his hand the story of the conspiracy and its principals but which remained unread as the Emperor in dignity received the wounds from daggers thrust by those he deemed his friends.

In the Amphitheatre where Christian Martyrs met death for the delight of the Crown, the Cameron visitors found interest that was luring. One can imagine the scenes of those days in the flower of Rome, which forgetting all save her pagan indulgences, witnessed the rending by wild beasts the terrified Christians, or on other occasions the combats of the Gladiators.

Saw Paul's Prison.

They went to the Mamertine Prison where St. Paul and St. Peter were in Prison for preaching the gospel in the days of Rome's rebellion against Christianity. One recalls that St. Peter to whom is credited the founding of the church by Catholics, was crucified in the manner in which the Redeemer met death on Golgotha's brow. Outside the Walls of Rome where now the feet of pilgrims tread in search of the places rich with the mementos of time and sacred to the memory of Christendom, the brilliant, impulsive St. Paul whose eloquence and zeal swayed the haughty Agrippa and burned away the barriers of Roman doubt, was put to death.

Leave Cameron May 19.

The Cameron travelers left this city on May 19 of this year and went to New York by way of Chicago. They met home folks in Chicago for about two hours and then on their way to the Atlantic went to Niagara Falls where they viewed the scene from both the Canadian and American sides. Back to the Capital at Washington for a two day stay, they went on to New York, reaching the metropolis on Sunday. On Tuesday they set sail from the pier on the Muenchen, a North German-Lloyd steamer for the coast of France. They sailed at 10 a. m. on May 26. The trip across was delightful with calm seas and after an 8 day cruise, they stopped for a few hours at Plymouth, England, but did not land. From the Isles they set sail for Cherbourg, France where the first landing was made on European soil. From this port they went overland to Paris and there spent 5 days in sight seeing, taking in the Paris Exposition and visiting places in that city that stand out prominent in the show places of the world.

Visit Versailles.

From Paris on the first tour they went to Versailles and there visited the place where the momentous hours were spent by allied and central power statesmen who negotiated and signed the treaty of peace in the late world war. The Hall of Mirrors was visited.

From Versailles they came South to Bordeaux where they visited an aunt of Miss Dreis. Residing in a villa a short distance from Bordeaux, the aunt Bane de Bouglon, welcomed her neice, for they had not met in 25 years. They met in America when the aunt was on a visit to this country.

See Famous Cemetery.

They spent three days at the Villa and in Bordeaux and from there they went to Lourdes, a delightful place in the Pyrene Mountains of the boundary between Spain and France. They spent 6 days in this place of scenic wonder and then went to Toulouse and then to Marseilles where they spent two days. A most interesting place was Genoa, Italy, where is located the famous Campo Santo Cemetery with its 5 miles of sculpture and statues. Here no grave is without its tomb no matter how poor may be the sleeper, for reared above the sod is a work of art and many of the works are from the hands of the masters.

From Genoa the pilgrimage took them to Rome and on the way a glimpse of Mont Carlo was had with its fringe of mountains and wonderful scenic grandeur. At last the Eternal City had been reached and then began the days of inspiration.

Florence and Venice.

From Rome they went to Florence where along with many things of historic interest they saw the famous art galleries which are exceeded only by the rich treasures of the Vatican in Rome. 2 days were spent in this universal sanctuary which is the cradle of the Renaissance. Reclining in her amphitheatre of vine clad hills, cleft by the golden current of the Arno, and guarded by the Tuscan Apennines, Florence is not only one of the most attractive cities in the world, she is beacon light of history.

In Venice were found many things of interest and the novel experience of Gondolas in which they rode along the romantic thoroughfares. Here was seen the Cathedral of St. Mark which is constructed of white marble and has a shrine of silver.

William Tell.

From this interesting place of Italy they went to the lake region and through the St. Gathard tunnel into the Wm. Tell country. Every school child knows the story of Wm. Tell who was a Swiss peasant of the canton of Uri on lake Lucerne. According to tradition current, he lived in the early half of the 14th century. Gessler, an insolent baliff, set his hat on a pole and ordered that no villager pass by without baring his head and bowing respectfully. Tell, famous hunter and bowman, proudly ignored the order. Gessler arrested Tell and condemned him to shoot an apple from the head of his own son, stationed many yards distant. The boy stood unflinching. The shaft flew true, The craven peasantry could not refrain from expressions of relief and joy. As Tell was about to turn away, a second arrow was noted on his person. "For what purpose?" demanded Gessler. "For thy heart in case my son had been harmed," replied the undaunted Tell. Gessler then ordered Tell to be placed in a boat with himself to be conveyed to prison. During the passage arose and Tell, who was a skilled boatman, was freed from his bonds to save of Lake Lucerne a violent storm the boat and its passengers from destruction. Guiding the boat alongside a sheltering rock, Tell sprang ashore before anyone could stop him, and hastening to a defile through which the party must pass, he awaited Gessler and shot an arrow through his heart.

Here is located at Fluelen, the first stop in Switzerland the Wm. Tell Chapel. At Altdorf is the statue of Wm. Tell.

See Switzerland.

At noon of this day a friend arrived in a car to take the party on what proved to be a most delightful part of the tour abroad. A motor trip through Switzerland where at first hand one sees the grandeur of its mountains and streams. They went along the famous drive of the Oxen-Strasse and from the Lucerne Lake they went to Interlaken where they stayed 4 days amid the snow capped peaks. It is here that the famous peak, Jungfrau rears its lofty crest 11,800 feet into the blue sky of Switzerland. A trip to the top proved interesting. The summit is reached by train part way and then in electrically heated cars the remainder. Before reaching the crest of the peak a 20 minute ride is made through a tunnel. The cost of the trip is $11.80 for each passenger. It requires 4 hours to reach the top and four hours to descend.

Sweeden's Capital.

From this delightful place they went to Berne, the Swiss capital. In the country sides the saw many gorgeous flowers in evidence everywhere. In Berne the architecture is unlike that of any other city in the world. At the fountains and places of interest much of the statuary smacks of the folk lore and fable for which the country is famous.

From Berne Miss Dreis returned to Bordeau where she spent one month with her aunt.

Enter Germany.

From Zurich they crossed Lake Constance to Munich, Germany. They had come at last to the native land. Miss Marie Lorenz was born in Germany but her sister, Miss Anna was born in Chicago.

One place of abiding interest visited was Oberammergau, a village in the district of Ammergau on the River Ammer in upper Bavaria. Its inhabitants are industrious people, occupied largely with the making of crucifixes, figures of Saints and toys. The village is noted for its presentation once in ten years of the Passion Play.

Home of Wagner.

From this place they went to Nurnberg where they spent 3 days in this old city. Thence they went to Bayreuth the home of Wagner and here they saw the Wagner Operas, an entertainment which proved one of the most delightful on the trip. The opera lasts from 4 to 10 p. m. and a seat cost $10.

At Stuttgart they passed through the occupied zone under French military control, but since evacuated. They toured this country and then went to Trier and thence to Strassburg where they were joined by Miss Dreis who had concluded her visit with her aunt in Bordeaux. In the Saar valley region the Misses Lorenz visited with some relatives, cousins they had not seen in many years. In all they spent 3 weeks here.

Sail for Bremen.

They then went to Bremen by way of Cologne where they spent 2 days and took the steamer, Columbia, the largest vessel operated by the North German-Lloyd lines. It is a 32,000 ton ship and one of the finest afloat. They sailed on August 22 and after 8 days landed in Brooklyn. They went to Chicago where there for two weeks they visited relatives.

The attitude of the people of the countries visited is one of courtesy to the American and strangers in their land. As a whole they seem prosperous and happy. In parts of France many women were seen operating trolley cars. They receive 12 francs a day, about 60c in American money. In the Saar valley the coal miner receives 20 francs a day, about one dollar in American money.

Each member of the party, while enjoying the trip abroad, felt glad when they sighted the Statue of Liberty and the towers of greater New York, and more especially when they reached Cameron where their friends are legion.

Kentucky Lady Got Well After Taking Cardui.

"I got down in health—suffering from womanly troubles which caused me much pain and worry," says Mrs. Rhoda Canary, of R. F. D. 6, Owensboro, Ky. "My stepmother had taken Cardui when she was in my same condition, so I got to inquiring around among my friends about it and found several women who were taking it at that time. "They all told me how good it was, so I told my husband to get me a bottle to try. That night he came home with a bottle of Cardui. "I had a . . . which left me in a very serious condition. I had been in bed eight weeks and was unable to move in bed without help. "By the time I had taken half a bottle (of Cardui), my strength began to come back. I could sit up in bed. These services from night to night, which are drawing big crowds, are being held in the Methodist church, the Christian Church having no building here since their church was destroyed by fire.

Rev. McReynolds, altho a young man, has delivered this sermon-lecture on the Most Horrible Sin in several states and always the public is given an opportunity to guess as to what they believe this sin to be. Tonight preceding the sermon he will give to the one who has guessed correctly a beautiful Bible.

The following guesses have been submitted:

Procrastination.
Dancing.
Lying.
Stealing.
Adultery.
Dishonesty.
Selfishness.
Working children who ought to be in school.
War.
Whisky.
Dope.
Immorality.
Gossip.
Money.
Denying Christ.
Murder.
And many others.

Friday night Judas Iscariot will be put on trial and Judge M. G. Cox will prosecute Judas Iscariot as the meanest man of history. Evangelist McReynolds will attempt to defend Judas Iscariot to the extent that he will contend that Judas Iscariot was a better man than the average man of today.

Saturday night his subject will be, "Death and the Mysteries of Heaven." The Evangelist's sister, Miss Anna-bell Hall, of Portland Oregon, is directing the singing, and Miss Willetta Barnes of Hubbard City, niece of Mrs. W. T. Mowdy of this city, is playing the piano.

It has not been announced when the meeting will close, but it will continue into the coming week.

The services begin each night at 7:30.

Mr. McReynolds stated in an interview with a Herald reporter that it is planned to start work on a new building on the Christian Church lot on West Main right away.

The above photograph was made of Evangelist McReynolds 26 years ago as he stood in the back yard addressing an imaginary audience of hundreds of people.

Drouth Fails to Stop Increase in Postal Receipts in Cameron.

Every one is talking of hard times and of the decrease in business.

But, we are glad to say that there is one very frequently visited place in Cameron that has not yet suffered from the drought. This is the post office.

Through investigation we find that the postal receipts for the fiscal year of 1925 show an increase of 13 1-2 per cent over the fiscal year of 1924. How's that for hard times? In spite of little rain and poor crops our post office continues to grow. And, as the post office grows so grows Cameron.

KLAN WIZARD HITS FERGUSON IN TALK

SAYS TEXANS TO HAVE CHANCE TO VOTE FOR "GOVERNOR IN HIS OWN NAME."

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 12.—Hiram W. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the K. K. K., took a slap at the administration of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in a statement here today.

Evans stopped off in Dallas en route to the state-wide Klan gathering at Arlington.

Evans declared the Klan would not have a candidate in the field for governor at the next election.

"No man will be permitted to run as the Klan candidate," he declared. "The people of Texas will have the opportunity to elect a governor who will be governor in his own name, and not proxy."

FERGUSON REFUSES KU KLUX USE OF CAVALRY HORSES IN CEREMONY AT ARLINGTON FOR INITIATION.

Arlington, Tarrant County, Texas, Sept. 12.—A cloudburst Friday night fell upon a crowd of about 5,000 attending the State picnic and barbecue of the Dallas and Fort Worth Ku Klux Klans in a grove and open field on North Main street, driving men, women and children to the scant shelter of trees and automobiles parked about the inclosure. Everyone was drenched and confusion prevailed for an hour or more.

The initiation of a number into the klans had just started in the open field when this ceremony was abruptly terminated by the terrific rain-storm. Regalia and decorations alike were soaked, while booths and tents in the grove were made untenable by the floods that ran in rivulets through the area.

Storm Follows Announcement.

The storm followed almost immediately an announcement by Ben Richards of Dallas Klan No. 66, that Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson had ordered removed from the field a dozen or more cavalry horses belonging to Fort Worth troops of the National Guard. It had been planned to use these animals, Mr. Richards said, in a "mounted initiation ceremony," the first to be attempted in the United States. A roar of disapproval swelled up from the audience at the announcement of the Governor's action.

The feature of the day's program was an address by Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans, who came from Washington, D. C., he said, to greet the klansmen of Texas. His address was in the nature of a strong appeal to Texas members to support the Klan program which, he said, consisted mainly of national legislation to provide listing of all alien criminals and their deportation from America as soon as their terms in prisons are served. He said enemies of the Klan had persistently circulated reports that the organization was dead in Texas and other States, but "he could assure his audience that it was larger and stronger now than at any time in its history."

"Getting Rid of Men."

"We had too many men in the Dallas Klan," he said. "And, thank God, we are getting rid of a lot of them. The same thing can be said of the Fort Worth Klan. This organization has been born again, to present Christianity to the United States in the best way it has ever been presented. The time is gone when a man can put his hand into the treasury of this order. When a man does that now we reach for the ax and he leaves his hand in the sack."

A large portion of the address was devoted to a history of the Klan and statistics to prove that the membership is growing, "by the hour," he said.

"They are 'kluxing' on every hillside in the United States tonight," he said, "along racial and nationalistic lines, not politics."

Mr. Evans predicted that the next Congress would be Democratic and said the Klan "is destroying party lines."

"Governor by Proxy."

"The Texas Klan next time is going to get somebody who can hold the Governor's office in his own name and will not be Governor by proxy," he said, amid cheers of the crowd.

Grand Dragon M. A. Childress of San Antonio introduced the Imperial Wizard in a brief address. Preceding his remarks J. H. (Cyclone) Davis of Sulphur Springs and the Rev. Hugh S. Everett, pastor of the First Baptist Church of South San Antonio, made addresses. A quartet from Sulphur Springs sang several selections.

"Our meetings have been prohibited and sometimes dynamited," Mr. Davis declared in his address. "On three occasions dynamite has been placed under band stands and but for the providence of God our men would have been blown into mince meat and macaroni." He charged that the press of the United States is under the control of the Catholic Writers' Association.

Kean R. Dulany of Dallas Klan No. 66 was executive secretary for the picnic and barbecue. Joe B. Wells of Fort Worth Klan was chairman of the arrangements committee, assisted by Tom A. Hogle, Chester L. Jones of Fort Worth and Norman Register of Dallas. The encampment will continue through Saturday, the principal feature of the program being the barbecue at noon and "naturalization" ceremonies at night.

Chevrolet Increase Production in Sept.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14.—Sustained demand and a growing list of unfilled orders has caused the Chevrolet Motor company to increase heavily its production schedule during September.

The schedule revision involves an increase of more than 16 per cent over the production program originally planned for September. The new schedule calls for 53,165 motor cars and trucks in September, a Chevrolet record for that month and only 3,078 less than the highest production month in the history of the company.

Both day and night shifts have been augmented to maintain the new schedule. The company shipped 4,284 cars to dealers on Aug. 31, establishing a new record 600 higher than the largest previous shipment for one day.

The company, which recently made its two-millionth car, attained during August a greater production thus far for 1925 than the entire production of 1924.

Several factors have contributed to the unprecedented demand according to C. E. Dawson, assistant general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor company.

"The August 1 reduction of $40 to $50 in the closed model prices together with the announcement of the improvements on all models caused a still further increase in the unfilled order list," said Mr. Dawson. "The greatest demand at present appears to be for the Chevrolet Coach. Increased popularity also has been gained by the new Utility Express one-ton truck which has replaced the former truck of the same name."

"Another factor in car demand is the rapid economic recovery of the south and the southwest where purchasing power is now on a par with the remainder of the country."

Dad Longmire, 74, "On Possum Hunt" On His Birthday.

Reporters have heard of all kinds of birthday celebrations but it remains for Dad Longmire to cap the climax as Dad usually does. Dad was 74 years old last Thursday and he celebrated the occasion with a nightmare Thursday night. He says he dreamed he was out in the woods and all the possums he had ever caught in his life, headed by the great-granddaddy of all the possums in the world, slipped up on him and surrounded him. Remembering possum nature Dad says he tried to fool them like they had so often tried to fool him—by feigning death; but it didn't work. Old Grandpa Possum grabbed him around the waist and wound his tail around Dad's throat so tight he couldn't holler. Then the others took in time about biting him on all parts of the body. He called for John and Will to come help him and they responded with a length of garden hose, trying to drown out the attacking enemy. Finally Dad awoke and found that Mrs. Longmire had been pouring ice water over him to wake him up. Dad says he got paid back for every possum he had caught in his life, and he is now hoping the fish he has caught won't decide to trouble him. We hope so too for if they do nothing short of a whale will answer to represent all the fish Dad has caught, and we'd hate to hear of Dad being swallowed by a whale, even in a nightmare. It would be too hard on the whale.—Rockdale Reporter.

Big Business Looking for You

Can you Fill a Position as Bookkeeper, Stenographer,
Secretary, Telegrapher or Radio Operator, Cotton
Classifier, Penman, or as a Civil Service Employee?

If you want to get into business and leave forever the long hours of drudgery; if you want to fill one of the above positions and enter the most wonderful profession at an income you have never dreamed of, you need to train for business.

Experience will not give you this training. Employers don't want to give you a minute of their time unless they feel reasonably certain you have most of the qualifications they need and they don't want to take your word for it. The world is full of "I-THINK-I-CAN-DO-IT'S." Business hires for the future. Business refuses to guess. Business wants to know.

Specialty Shop Has Picked Markets for New Fall Dresses.

Mrs. Lola Hearrell of the Specialty Shop has returned from the markets and has received shipment of a large consignment of fall dresses, the most complete line to embrace every mode of fashion for fall and winter yet seen in Cameron.

Many new things creep into the texture and color of the new fall dresses. The modes are very charming and not for many a day has the styles been equalled for both attractiveness and price.

In her advertising Mrs. Hearrell uses the slogan: "The Little Shop That Is Different" and in the selection of this line of fall dresses she has emphasized this slogan to a satisfactory degree.

In buying this line of fall frocks Mrs. Hearrell tried to make it unnecessary for the most discriminating buyer to go to Dallas or other markets. No better selection can be had anywhere in Texas than the line now in stock. Never has there been such a variety of colors and mode in the new fall dresses as now.

MRS. GEORGE HENDERSON.

On September 1925, the funeral of Mrs. George Henderson was conducted from the Walker's Creek church at 4:30 p. m. by Rev. W. C. Binford of the Cameron Baptist church. Friends of the family came from long distances to be present and to offer sympathy to the bereaved members of her family.

The floral tributes were many and handsome and completely covered her last resting place with rare beauty.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Chamberlain, Dobbins, Hightower and Johns. The music was rendered by the sweet voiced Walker Creek choir and included "Nearer My God to Thee," "Asleep in Jesus" and several old favorite hymns.

The following brief biography was read: "Mrs. Needham Weston Henderson wife of G. H. Henderson was born Jan. 15, 1864 in Alabama. She came to Texas in 1892 and had lived in Walkers Creek community since. She died Sept. 13, 1925, at the age of 62 years and eight months. Soon after coming to Texas she joined the Baptist church at Walkers Creek and she lived a devoted member until her death. She was the mother of six children two of whom preceded her to the grave. She leaves behind to mourn her loss a devoted husband and four children, Mrs. Claude Bell McCall, Winifred Henderson, Theodore Henderson, Mrs. Rosa Clifton, and eight grand children and a host of relatives and friend.

EASING THE BURDEN OF STATE TAXATION

Banker Points Out Benefits of Community Property System in Some States.

Favorable aspects of tax systems are now among the most highly prized assets of our states, it is pointed out in the American Bankers Association Journal in connection with an article on how California, which has never had a state income tax, cuts state and Federal death taxes nearly in half by the "community property" system. L. H. Roseberry, Vice President Security Trust and Savings Bank, Los Angeles, author of the article, says that a recent amendment to the tax law enables future residents of the state to take advantage of it. Reference is made to a former article by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Dewey, voicing the need for death tax reform and citing a hypothetical case involving California inheritance taxes which might have been levied in 1929. Since that time the laws have been changed, Mr. Roseberry declares, so that the figures then given do not correctly represent the present situation. He says:

"Ever since its admission California has had the 'community property' system. Eight other states have a similar system. 'Community property' is property accumulated by married persons during their marriage, except that which is acquired by gift, bequest or inheritance. Approximately 65 per cent of all property in the state is 'community property.' Such property in California enjoys the most favorable position in regard to death taxes, both state and Federal, of any state in the Union (excepting possibly the eight other states having a similar property system) including states boasting of no inheritance tax whatever. The California 'community property' system is recognized for the purpose of levying Federal estate taxes, and only one-half of it is now so taxed, while in Florida the whole estate of a decedent is subject to the Federal levy.

How the Law Works

"California's law expressly provides that upon the death of either husband or wife, testate, only one-half of their net 'community property' shall be subject to inheritance taxes. The same exemption applies upon the death of the husband, intestate, while the whole net 'community property' is totally exempt from all state inheritance taxation upon the death of the wife intestate. The Federal estate tax law now follows precisely the California law in this respect.

"As the result of an amendment made to the California inheritance tax law by the 1925 Legislature, this immunity from state inheritance taxes likewise now extends to 'community property' of non-resident married persons, who hereafter take up their legal residence in the state. This puts 'community property' in a more favorable position regarding death taxes than exists in any other state in the Union, with the possible exception of the other community property states. This extension of the exemption will add 15 per cent to property in the state coming under this definition, which means that approximately 80 per cent of all property probated in California will enjoy the lightest death taxes in America.

"To illustrate, the following example of a man survived by a wife and two minor children is computed, the estate consisting of 'community property' all left by will to the wife and children. One-half of such property would go under the law to the wife without any death taxes, and the other half only would be subject to both state inheritance and Federal estate taxes.

"As a subject of comparison, take a state which has no inheritance tax, such as Florida. If the comparison were made with the states which impose inheritance taxes but do not have the 'community property' system, the advantage in favor of California would even be more striking.

Estate of $100,000	Total Tax
California	None
Non-inheritance-tax state	$500
Advantage in favor of California	500

Estate of $200,000	Total Tax
California	None
Non-inheritance-tax state	905
Advantage in favor of California	905

Estate of $400,000	Total Tax
California	None
Non-inheritance-tax state	2,000
Advantage in favor of California	2,000

Estate of $1,000,000	Total Tax
California	None
Non-inheritance-tax state	5,779
Advantage in favor of California	5,779

Estate of $1,000,000	Total Tax
California	1,249,155
Non-inheritance-tax state	2,543,500
Advantage in favor of California	1,294,345

"If the two children were adults, the California tax would be increased only $280 in each case.

Another New Amendment

"Another feature of the recent amendment to the California inheritance tax law is a section fixing the inheritance taxes on stock in California corporations owned by non-residents at a flat sum of 2 per cent on their actual value. When considered in conjunction with the ruling that no inheritance taxes can be levied upon any stock in foreign corporations, or upon bank accounts, bonds, notes, debentures, or similar securities belonging to a non-resident but located in the state at the time of such non-resident's decease, it will be observed that at present the inheritance tax situation in California is most favorable, both to non-residents who have property in this state and to married people who live here or who may subsequently move here from elsewhere."

Commercial Club to Assist Farmers in Getting Planting Seed

The Commercial Club is interested in securing cotton planting seed for the farmers of Milam county. The Matter of securing seed for the farmers has been undertaken by the club and its committee on agriculture has the matter in hand.

On investigation it has been found that the low rates granted by the railroad commission through the railroads does not include cotton seed or hulls, two of the principal items of feed used on the farms and ranches of this section.

Cameron banks, it is said, are now buying good Texas seed to be sold to the farmers at $1 per bushel or as low as they can be delivered to Cameron.

In the drouth area are practically all of Texas' richest cotton lands where the fine pedigree seed are produced and there will be no seed produced in this area this year. Seed will be difficult to get and the Commercial Club is acting for the interests of the farmer in securing seed for planting.

Make your cake with Snowdrift—grease the pans with Snowdrift—and make the icing with Snowdrift.

Make doughnuts with Snowdrift—and then fry the doughnuts in Snowdrift.

Every use for a shortening or frying-fat is an opportunity to find out how good Snowdrift is. And using Snowdrift in your own favorite recipes is the best way of all to find out how much better it is than any fat you ever used before.

The Wesson Oil people make Snowdrift out of oil as good as fine salad oil—hardened and whipped into a creamy white fat—and packed in an airtight can to keep it as sweet and fresh as the day it was made.

Try it in your favorite cake.

It is much easier to cream because it is already so creamy itself. It is so delicate that it makes your cake very rich without changing the flavor. It is 100% pure fat, without salt or water, so add a pinch of salt if you have been using butter in your recipe.

Try Snowdrift in your favorite biscuit recipe and see how good biscuit can be.

Try Snowdrift in pie-crust—rich, tender, flaky. Snowdrift may not make you a better cook, but the family are likely to think so.

Fry in Snowdrift and see how delicious and wholesome fried food can be. A crispy brown crust forms so quickly that the food does not absorb too much fat and, inside this thin crust, cooks to a tempting lightness and daintiness.

Snowdrift is very economical as a frying fat—especially in deep frying. Strain it, to remove any crumbs of food, and you can use it over and over again for frying different things.

This is true to some extent of any fat. But here is one advantage of Snowdrift. It will not absorb the odor or flavor of any food cooked in it—not even fish nor onions. You may use it over and over again.

And Snowdrift is not altered much by heating to cooking temperature. Much cooking fat has to be thrown out after you have used it a few times. But Snowdrift is altered so little by heating that you can use it up and not waste it. It is almost as good the last time you use it as the first.

PUNISHMENT SURE AND SWIFT AND NOT SEVERITY, IS SOLUTION TO CRIME SAYS SING SING WARDEN.

That certainty, not severity, is the most desirable element in any form of punishment is the leading declaration made by Major Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing Prison, New York, in correspondence with Adolph Lewishohn, 61 Broadway New York. In his letter Major Lewis discusses at some length the problem of reduction of crime wave, the object of imprisonment and the program which is in his judgement ought to be observed in conducting a prison. This correspondence comes to the News in a statement as follows:

The following is some correspondence between Major Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing Prison and myself, which I think would be of interest to your readers and may do much to clarify this difficult problem:

'August 11, 1925.-Major Lewis E. Lawes, Warden, Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y.-My Dear Major Lawes: It has occurred to me that you and others who are situated in a similar position as you are could be of help to the general community better than most others to reduce the crime wave. I believe and I think you will agree with me, that the bold criminals can not easily be frightened by longer sentences or bad treatment in prison. They take their chances thinking they can escape detection and if caught think they can manage to escape harsh treatment, even if the general rule should be bad treatment. They think that either by political influence or otherwise they can personally escape it and anyway will take their chances. The same about capital punishment, as you have so well explained in your book. What is most effective in my opinion is quick and sure justice. A good many of the people who commit crimes are pretty smart and are not going to try it if they think there is little chance of their being able to carry it thru. Do you think that it is possible that you and others situated in a similar way, who came in direct contact with many criminals, can help to induce some of the criminal world to keep away from crime and instead go straight? Could such results be helped by the expenditures of certain moneys, or what other means could be employed to help this cause?

'With kindest regards, I remain, Yours sincerely,

'State of New York, Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, Aug. 22, 1925. Mr. Adolph Lewishohn, 61 Broadway, New York City.

'My Dear Mr. Lewishohn:—Your letter of the 11th inst. at hand, upon my return from a ten-day vacation.

'Your views on the subject of reducing crime wave are, as they have always been sane and conservative. Crime, as a whole, is the result of social and economic conditions far deeper than mere punishment can hope to affect.

'Sing Sing, all state prisons, must deal with the failures of school and church, those who have stumbled on probation or parole, those who have been unreformed by our juvenile and reformatory institutions. The prisons receives all the human wrecks cast aside by all other agencies engaged in educational and in other philanthropic work. It is the last resort of the social misfit. After examining records and reports of insurance companies, considering the amount of appropriated or taken annually by men sentenced to prison, I sometimes think that any prison is a place of inefficient crooks.

'The best administered prison will not reform all; the worst administered will reform some. The man who is a burglar, a stick-up-man a gunman or a gangster is still the same sort of an individual after admission to prison as he was to the outside. There is no mysterious method, although many good people still believe there is by which habits firmly entrenched by years can immediately be corrected.

'In the application of punishment in general, the great trouble with our system has been that we have applied the same dose of medicine to all kinds of crime disease. The only variation has been in the amount of medicine applied and even in that our dose has been unscientific and haphazard. Society has never fully realized that certainty and not severity is the most desirable element in any form of punishment. The penalty is not important if the criminal finds that he 'can get away with it'. Whether or not he can get away with it is only real deterrent thought which enters his mind previous to the commission of the crime. This is true in the majority of crimes of violence. The perpetrator does not consider how much the penalty may be for two reasons. He well knows the one chance of not being caught, the strong probability of not being able to make a bargain and plead to a crime of a lesser degree.

'It is not the nature of a penalty which deters, but the certainty with which a penalty of some sort will be applied. I make this assertion from an experience of many years and I believe it is supported by all writers and students of crime. Until we understand this and thoroughly appreciate its significance, we can not rightly appraise this problem.

The warden must see that society is protected by keeping the man confined in the institution but at the same time he must present to the individual an opportunity for the creation and development of initiative—the man must if possible, be kept from becoming institutionalized. Of what economic advantage is it to detain the man for one year, for five years, for ten years, and then turn him out with the mark of the institution stamped indelibly upon his habits and character. This development must be accomplished with very little opportunity for inspirational leadership. It is not to be expected that the great majority of prisoners will have any real affection for the warden. To them, he must present to them primarily the aspect of a jailor. You will never see a prisoner tearing petals from the beds in a prison yards saying 'He loves me, he loves me not.'

No doubt there will always exist differences of opinion about the methods of treating men in prison, whether severe repressive regulations and harsh discipline in an atmosphere that is unhealthy, both physically and mentally, are more effective as measures of punishment than mere human with living conditions as normal as circumstances will permit.

At various times there has been a great deal of discussion in the press about the so called 'coddling' of prisoners. Many well-meaning but misinformed individuals have mistaken rational and carefully planned rehabilitation work for what they unthinkingly took to be a system built on sentiment. Many still profess to believe that a reversion to the silent system, that confinement in unhealthy surroundings, without the allegation properly fit a man to take his place in life. They expect a man compelled to live under depression conditions, month after month and year after year, to develop, through some miracle, into something other than a sullen, revengeful machine. They forget that you cannot recreate a human character without recreation.

The criterion by which success or failure of the method is to be judged is the percentage of men who make good when they leave the institution. This is the true indication of how nearly perfect the system is under which they are confined. We now have the best record of Sing Sing.

Some men should be retained in prison for their natural life, others could, with safety and great economic gain, be released earlier.

The most critical period in the life of a convict man is upon his release from prison. Often friendless, usually penniless, and with the prison stigma ever present, it is often a bitter struggle for a man who really wants to go straight.

About two years ago through your generosity, a number of carefully selected cases were released and each was assisted in getting properly located. Only one has record of since getting in trouble.

With kind regards I am
Lewis E. Lawes,
Agent and warden.

Major Lawes has been warden of Sing Sing prison about five years and has proven himself very able and successful. He has not lost a single prisoner through escape during his term. A few escapes have taken place but he personally conducted searches for the escaped prisoners and brought them back to prison.

HARRY WARNER VETERAN PUBLISHER IS BURIED

DIES IN HOUSTON AFTER LONG ILLNESS—WAS CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR IN 1923.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 12.—Harry T. Warner, 55, veteran Texas editor, died at 4:35 a. m. today at a local hospital, after a long illness. Mr. Warner was editor of the Paris News, and for two decades was managing editor of the old Houston Post.

Mr. Warner was brought to Houston Friday morning when his condition took a turn for the worse at his Paris, home. Relatives were with him at the time of his death.

Mr. Warner was a member of Holland Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., and Rose Croix Chapter, Scottish Rite bodies.

The time of the funeral has not been set, but it will be held from the home of his sister, Mrs. J. W. Lockett, of Houston.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. W. Whatley of Austin, Miss Hallie Warner of Springfield, Mo., and Miss Annette Warner of Paris, Texas; one son, Howell B. Warner of Paris; his mother, Mrs. B. R. Warner, of Houston; three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Lockett and Mrs. J. D. Lockett, both of Houston, and Mrs. C. M. Martin of Venus; one brother, B. W. Warner of Buffalo, N. Y.; and one grand daughter, Mary Whatley of Austin.

A firm believer in the theory that a newspaper should be something more to community than a money maker for its owner, Mr. Warner made his paper one of the public institutions of this community. He became general manager of the Paris Morning News, April 2, 1920, the North Texas Publishing company, in which he was a stockholder and director, having bought the paper, which had been published under private ownership for fifty years. He had previously been connected with the Houston Post and was one of the best known newspaper men in Texas.

His greatest work for Paris through his newspaper, was considered to be his able advocacy of the country schools as the beginning point of good citizenship. He was a strong advocate of interscholastic contests, both athletic and literary, as a means of holding the interest of school children, and it is considered his work more than that of any other one individual that has put Lamar county in the forefront in this work.

He was personally acquainted with more men, probably, than any other Texas newspaper editor. Friendships formed in his early days, when he was a printer, lasted through the years, while his work put him in contact with every public man and politician in the state and many over the nation. That he retained the respect of all who knew him is evidence of his force of character, his fair mindedness and his willingness to do anything he asked of others.

In 1922 he was a candidate for governor in democratic primaries, polling about 70,000 votes. He made his campaign almost entirely from his editorial desk, stating that the reason impelling him to enter the race was the failure of other candidates to stand for many things he considered vital to Texas. He said he did not expect to be elected, but considered it a duty to put himself forward for the principles he advocated.

Just prior to coming to Paris, Mr. Warner was Austin correspondent for the Houston Post, which he had been connected with for more than twenty years.

He was born in Montgomery, Ala., July 22, 1870, coming to Texas with his parents in 1878, the family settling at Rockdale, where his father published a newspaper. His education was grounded in the public and private schools of Rockdale and Austin, the family subsequently moving from Rockdale to the capital. This education was broadened at the printer's case and by travel as a printer, which took him into every section of the United States.

About the time the linotype machine came, he left the printer's case, going into the editorial department, serving the Houston Post as reporter, desk and special assignment man until 1907, when he was made managing editor of that paper. He held the position until the change in management incident upon the paper's acquisition by Roy Watson, when he went to Austin as capital correspondent for the paper.

Commercial Club to Assist Farmers in Getting Planting Seed

The Commercial Club is interested in securing cotton planting seed for the farmers of Milam county. The Matter of securing seed for the farmers has been undertaken by the club and its committee on agriculture has the matter in hand.

On investigation it has been found that the low rates granted by the railroad commission through the railroads does not include cotton seed or hulls, two of the principal items of feed used on the farms and ranches of this section.

Cameron banks, it is said, are now buying good Texas seed to be sold to the farmers at $1 per bushel or as low as they can be delivered to Cameron.

In the drought area are practically all of Texas' richest cotton lands where the fine pedigree seed are produced and there will be no seed produced in this area this year. Seed will be difficult to get and the Commercial Club is acting for the interests of the farmer in securing seed for planting.

Secretary Invites R. Q. Lee to Speak.

Secretary Paul Webb of the Commercial Club has written R. Q. Lee of Cisco a letter inviting him to Cameron to deliver the principal address on September 28 when the club holds its annual banquet.

It is hoped that Mr. Lee will accept this invitation. In the event he comes to Cameron, an opportunity will be had for the farmers to get diversification first hand as understood by Mr. Lee who is doing great work in West Texas.

See the committees at once and secure a ticket to this banquet. It will be worthwhile to attend and hear Mr. Lee expound his farm program.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

A gentleman called at the Wesleyan Conference office in London and asked for a copy of the latest report for the fund for wornout ministers. After some days he returned saying that he had examined the figures carefully, and gathered that the managers needed an increased income of about five thousand pounds per year to meet the claims. He therefore handed the treasurer his check for a half million dollars and asked that his name be not mentioned. From N. Y. Advocate.) That is the way the English Methodists are doing it. Shall we not also carry on till the Superannuate Endowment Fund is completed?

Services next Sunday at the usual hours. At 7:45 p. m. Rev. L. B. Elrod will preach and then hold the fourth Quarterly Conference. Let the Leagues, Sunday School, Missionary Societies, and all Treasurers be ready with written reports as required by the Discipline.

We want to make as good a report as possible, and unless a great many shall pay into the budget this week, our report on Conference Benevolences will be small.

Also, as a member of this church, we urge you to help the Board, by making a contribution on the church debt budget. Please.

R. R. TYSON WRITES TO US FROM BENTON, LA.

CONDITIONS GOOD IN THAT SECTION SAYS CAMERON MAN NOW OUT OF TEXAS

The Herald has received the following interesting communication from R. R. Tyson at Benton, Louisiana, telling of conditions there, which he describes as good. Always writing of interesting things we take pleasure in printing this letter which will be read by thousands in Milam county:

Benton, La., Sept. 14, 1925.

Mr. J. B. White,
Cameron, Texas.

My Dear Mr. White:

I thought perhaps that a letter from me might be read with some interest, coming as it does from another state. On account of the drouth stricken conditions of our beloved Texas and grand old Milam county, I left with the unfortunate laborers on my farm and other laborers on my neighbors farms, seeking employment until conditions improved, or until the drouth was broken. On Aug 1st we arrived on Richland creek in Navarro county near where it empties into the Trinity river. We stayed there one month barely making expenses. We were located on what is known as the Drane Gibson farm. This is a very fine farming land, well protected from overflows by a great levy, the production there being about one half normal. Realizing that our services were fast approaching an end, and realizing also that the fall season was still ahead we studied conditions and decided to come here. We are now located at Benton, La., ten miles up Red River, from Shreveport. Benton is the parish seat of this Parish. Our time has been so employed that we have had very little time to meet the people, but what it has been our good fortune to come in contact with, impresses you with the splendid citizenship that lives here. Our stay here being for a short period, our quarters are temporary. We are occupying tents, all new of heavy duck, well erected, and at night, when lighted up, it resembles a little city of white. We are perched upon a high hill overlooking a great fertile valley of as fine land as could be found anywhere well adapted to the growth of cotton and sugar-cane. I have never seen finer cotton, ranging in production from three-fourths to one-half bales mail me copy of issue. Address, Benton, La. care of J. E. Burt, R. F. D. 2, Box 12. With kindest regards I am, very truly,

Your friend,

FOX.

Grey fox and red fox are protected 12 months in the year for a period of 10 years and it is unlawful to trap kill or have in your possession any fox for 10 years.

Wild game of every description is being destroyed at an alarming rate and if the people of Texas do not lend a helping hand in protecting it it will only be a question of a short time that it will be exterminated, so it is the duty of every law abiding citizen of this State to report each and every violation of the game laws to the Sheriff, Constable or Deputy Game Warden. The game laws of Texas will be strictly enforced.

T. E. HUBBY.

Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner of Texas.

ALL WORN OUT?

So was Mr. Price Who Tells His Experience.

Are you tired all the time; wornout night and day? Does your backache as if it would break? Do you suffer dizziness, headaches, rheumatic twinges or distressing urinary disorders? You have good cause, then, to be alarmed about your kidneys. Do as many of your townfolk recommend. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. This Cameron case is convincing:

A. J. Price, farmer, R. F. D. 2, in such poor shape, I had to get up as often as seven times during the night. This kidney disorder put my back in an aching condition and, dull, dragging pains took me across my kidneys. I felt all tired out, but after using Doan's Pills from Thomas & Sons Drug Store, backache and kidney trouble was relieved."

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

The Bill enacted by the last Legislature of Texas known as the Headlight Law which requires testing of all automobile headlights also require that car owners present their Official Headlight Certificate at time of registering their cars at the office of the Tax Collector.

Car owners are requested to present their Headlight Certificate when they register their cars.

The law requires the Tax Collector to demand this Headlight Certificate before he can issue license for registration fees paid and as the law is mandatory in this respect auto owners will save both time and annoyance by presenting this certificate.

It is the desire of this office to give the best of service and in order to acquaint the people with this requirement we are asking the co-operation of all automobile dealers as well as the auto headlight stations of the county in getting this information to the people.

Very respectfully,

Roy Law

Tax Collector Milam County.

CAMERON LIONS LOSE GAME WITH CALDWELL

HEAVY HITTING FEATURES THE GAME AT CALDWELL
WEDNESDAY.

Featured by heavy hitting and grave errors at critical stages of the play, the Cameron Lions Club lost a gruelling battle of base ball Wednesday afternoon on the grounds at Caldwell against the Caldwell Lions.

Ray Burke starting for Cameron in the box was given poor support at critical stages of the game, and although yielding a number of hits to the opposing team, pitched well. In the 7th he was displaced by Cy Perkins who was hit hard and was scored on rapidly.

The final count of the official score man, John Burke, was 20 to 12 in favor of Caldwell. Cameron played better ball than in the initial game here on Labor Day. The Cameron Lions hit well, driving two pitchers from the box. At the end of the third inning Cameron had 5 scores and Caldwell had 2. This lead was short lived for the King of Beasts from Caldwell soon rallied behind heavy hitting and took the lead.

Lion Walter Newton venturing his first diamond effort in many years after a crafty round of the bases in the third inning following a clean hit from which he later scored, was injured and had to retire. He was displaced by John Henderson in right field. The only near tragedy of the game was in the sixth inning when Lion Webb playing first base as good as Hal Chase and Lion Jackson who not only fielded his position well but invaded the territory of others, crashed just outside the diamond and both went down for a hard fall. For a few moments the ball was lost in the weeds in out field and 3 scores crossed the pan. Webb and Jackson went after a pop infield fly that before descending played a trick on the stars and swerved to short right field. They went after it strong, both feeling sure of a sensational catch. The crash came and both were knocked down. Webb recovered soon but it took some assistance for Silo Jack to gain his feet and go back to second.

Cy Perkins on short played a good game as did Skipper Love on the hot corner. In left field Ty Cobb ran them down gracefully and only had one bad inning. That came in the 7th when he got muscle bound on second and had to be retired for the time but played the game out. His base running was good and he knocked the Caldwell twirlers for a total of 3 clean hits.

Lion Webb pulled some sensational fielding. In the 8th he spiked a hot one with his glove hand off the shoe lace when to miss it would have scored two runs. It made the third out. The former Trinity star came in under applause. He bowed gracefully and immediately went to the plate and hit a good single.

Mike Coleman featured the game by his base stealing and running. He caught the game in good form. Pappy Peyton in the outer garden got a number of hits. He worked hard and to prove it sweat right through his shirt front. John Henderson annexed two hits and spiked the rubber for one run. He played right.

Only a few Cameron fans were on the lines to cheer and the crowd was small.

tion in Milam county schools. He raised corn and cotton on what is now Reese Addition when a boy. He studied dentistry in Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., where he graduated in 1881. On March 20, 1881 he married Miss Abbie Womack, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Womack of Cameron. He practiced his profession in Cameron. In 1886 he engaged in the drug business with Dr. J. C. Womack. This firm was succeeded by the firm of Reese and Sapp, Dr. M. C. Sapp being the junior member and the business is now owned by E. O. Schiller. On the organization of the First National Bank of Cameron in 1889 Dr. Reese took stock in that institution and in January 1892 became its vice president which position he held until his death, Sept. 11, 1925.

Modest in his deportment, fair in his business methods, attentive to his own affairs, friendly in his manner he was esteemed as one of Cameron's valuable citizens.
